

Suggested stage introduction

Michael Liebreich (pronounced Lee-Bryke) is Chairman and CEO of Liebreich Associates, but he is perhaps best known as Founder and Senior Contributor to Bloomberg New Energy Finance – the world’s leading provider of information and research on clean energy and transport.

He is a Visiting Professor at Imperial College, a member of the UK Department for International Trade’s Capital Investment Advisory Board and most recently joined Sustainable Development Capital LLP (SDCL) as a Senior Adviser. In June 2019 Michael was honoured to accept an invitation to join the IEA’s Global Commission for Urgent Action on Energy Efficiency, a newly formed independent panel focusing on key policy actions that can be undertaken by countries around the globe.

Until recently he was a long-standing board member of Transport for London and a member of the high-level group for the UN’s Sustainable Energy for All initiative.

Michael serves on too many advisory boards to list, he is a prolific speaker and writer, and is known to make the occasional angel investment. His ongoing philanthropic work is admirable, and finally, Michael also skied for Great Britain at the 1992 Albertville Olympics.
